Marched Along Street by Robber Who Thrusts Revolver Against Side

THUGS PROTEST AT SMALL PURSES CARRIED

Three Robberies Occur at About the Same Time on San Francisco Streets

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 22.—Hold-ups held a high carnival last night, operating in different parts of the city. They were bold, desperate robbers, but they got little for their pains, and in consequence handled their victims rather roughly. Three complaints were made to the police almost simultaneously about midnight last night.

Bruce Cameron, a hatter of 2780 Twenty-second street, fared the worst of the lot. He was literally made to dance at the word of two thugs, who made him stand and deliver, and was forced to march a considerable distance under cover of a gun.

Robbed of Money

Cameron's $24 on Twenty-second street, near the corner of Harrison, when a short, stout, smooth-shaven man about 22 years old thrust a nickel-plated revolver to his side and told him to turn around and walk up Treat avenue. When he reached the latter cross street he was made to stand with his face toward the fence of a vacant lot on the corner. At this juncture a second robber, wearing a white silk handkerchief over his face, came up and searched him, taking $6 in cash, all the anger that they did not receive more the men sailed in and proceeded to beat him with their fists, afterward telling him to walk down Twenty-second street and not to turn around or he would get a bullet through his head.

Faces Revolver

At about the same time Richard T. James, a cieft of 1205 Gough street, was walking on Castro street, between Hill and Nineteenth, when he was struck down from a blow to the back of the head. A third robbery, however, had been committed and found himself looking into the barrel of a revolver in the hands of a thug, who wore a black mask. The man stood six feet tall and he proceeded at once to go through his victim's pockets, securing $3.50 in cash.

With one more blow, delivered this time at James' breast, the robber set off on the run, and escaped.

Nervous Footpad

They were bold, desperate robbers, but at least, Timothy Casserty, plumber, who made to throw up his hands by a high-pressure gun, held his revolver close to his head and demanded his victim's money at 12:15 o'clock. The robbery took place on Butter street between Briderick and Baker, and the thug exhibited a great deal of nervousness. Casserty told him he was not nervous, and after a hasty search of his victim's pockets the robber took his word for it, hit him a blow with the butt end of his revolver and disappeared in the direction of Laurel Hill Cemetery, while Casserty sought out Peterman H. M. Smith and made his report.

WHAT GOV. GILLETTHINKS OF THE OAKLAND TRIBUNE

Governor's Office,

Sacramento, Oct. 19, 1909.

EDITOR TRIBUNE: I consider the OAKLAND TRIBUNE one of the best, if not the very best, evening paper on the Pacific Coast. I read your paper with a great deal of interest. It is certainly the biggest evening paper in California. From my standpoint it is bright, newsy and up-to-date in every respect. The people of Alameda County, in my opinion, are to be congratulated on having such a great newspaper.

J. N. GILLETT,
Governor of California.

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 22.—Mrs. Odie Morris was shot twice and seriously wounded in her room at 235 East Fourth street today by Fred Noble, who then turned the weapon on himself and committed suicide. The woman was shot in the left hip and the left thigh. Jealousy was the cause.

Actor Drops Dead On Leaving Theater

ALAMEDA, Feb. 22.—Word has been received by Mrs. G. R. Wilson of 1822 Lafayette street, that her son, Francis Sedgewick Wilson, dropped dead at Atlantic City, New Jersey, as he was leaving the theater. Wilson is well known in this city, and was an actor of note. He leaves a little son, Russell Wilson.

Wilson is a brother of Dr. C. E. Wilson of this city. As he was walking from the theater to his home Wilson dropped dead upon the street.

On account of departure for the East we have received instructions from G. Burns to sell the fine stock and store fixtures at 1600 Park street, Alameda. Victims Swept Out to Sea

De Golia was the first to appear on the surface. Before he him could realize the strength of the wave, he was again swept under and when he came to the surface knew the he faced a struggle for life.

By this time Peck and Miss Percy had been swept farther out to sea. Now that some people had dared to do what everybody deemed to be a grave danger, spread like wildfire in Ipspea, and an angry crowd quickly gathered on the beach.

Peck was carried under by the same swell which caught De Golia, and when she came to the surface it was apparent that she knew her danger. Peck, who had beaten the others in the race, by the raw whisky of the north, and nearer demon than man, a dozen fishermen from San Francisco poured grease over a native girl at one of the fastidiously points of the Boiling Sea, and setting fire to her, did a wild, uncouth, drunken dance about her, her shrieks of pain adding only to their frenzy.

Interrupted in the middle of their horrible orgie, and compelled to cease for their sins, only two were caught in the act. D. S. Sotolka was round by the fishermen on Christmas Day when they were in the midst of a prolonged debauch such as men give way to in the Arctic night.

The girl, who is half Russian and half Eskimo, according to the story brought down from the north, was captured by D. S. Sotolka, who was round by the fishermen on Christmas Day when they were in the midst of a prolonged debauch such as men give way to in the Arctic night.

Four Separate Fires in Rooms and Turpentine on Walls Cause Suspicion

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 22.—Manager A. Scott of the Trinity Day School spent a busy morning at the Hall of Justice, where he was forced to undergo two separate swatting processes instituted by the police and fire department respectively.

Late yesterday afternoon a fire broke out in the rooms occupied by the school in the Franklin Levy building on 17th street, and were it covered by Mrs. V. Leiser just in time to prevent a serious conflagration.

Scott Held for Arson

Policeman John St. Julian, after making a careful investigation of the rooms and discovering that four separate fires had been started, the walls being sprinkled with a coating of turpentine, decided to arrest Scott, who was arrested shortly before midnight.

The manager's name was placed on the detective book, and this morning he was brought before Captain of Detectives Anderson and Detective Sergeant Graham and carefully examined. He was interrogated as to his movements yesterday afternoon, but persisted in the statement that he left the college rooms as soon and did not return until last night, when he expected to sleep in his office.

Fire Marshal Has Inning

He was, however, unable to account satisfactorily for his movements during the interim, and then Fire Marshal Towe took a hand. Scott was taken upstairs to his office, but very little definite information could be obtained.

Captain Anderson states that he can not yet place a charge on the evidence he has, but will continue the investigation.

NEW ANTITOXINS CAUSE SENSATION

Dr. Leary's Discovery May Revolutionize Practice of Medicine

BOSTON, Feb. 22.—The announcement of the perfecting of antitoxins for typhoid fever, pneumonia, and blood poisoning by Dr. Timothy Leary, head pathologist at Tufts medical school, created a sensation in the medical world. It is successful in actual practice, the general opinion is that it will revolutionize the practice of medicine.

While probably a score of the leading physicians and pathologists of Boston knew of the work that had been done at Tufts, to the rest of the medical world it came as a complete surprise. The physicians who have been working with Dr. Leary in perfecting the antitoxins speak in the highest terms of the results from the use of the serum.

"For example, while pneumonia has been treated with the 'vaccine,' said one physician today, who has been associated with Dr. Leary in his experiments, and who has used the vaccine in his own practice, 'the results have been surprisingly favorable. There is an almost immediate effect, and it seems continuing. The use of the vaccines are still in their infancy, and there is still much to do.'

Bloodpoisoning Vaccine

"For example, it is now impossible for us to define the exact limitation for the treatment. Again, in cases of general blood poisoning it has been learned through these experiments that there are more bacilli concerned in this condition than were supposed, and that the streptococci is not a single individual but a large family with similar characteristics. Despite this, we have developed a blood-poisoning vaccine, but it cannot be used almost immediately, while fresh, to obtain the best results."

The news of the announcement was expected at Harvard medical school, where the pathologists have been watching the experiments of Dr. Leary for nearly a year. So impressed are the Harvard medical school authorities with the importance of the results of the Tufts experiments, and so glad that they have thrown out that Harvard will establish a department exclusively for research work of this kind. The department of pathology of the Harvard medical school announced today the establishment of a laboratory for serum diagnosis under the direction of Dr. Fred P. Gay.

BURGLARS HAVE ALAMEDA COUNTY BUSY SUNDAY IN OAKLAND

Break the Record, Doing Seven Good Jobs in Twelfth Street Block

ROBBER USE "JIMMIES" TO FORCE REAR DOORS

In All, Ten Cases Are Reported to Police, Losses Being Nominal

Seven burglaries in the same block in the same day is a record for Oakland. This year was accomplished by three Alameda County men in the block bounded by Franklin, Webster and Eleventh streets. The sum total secured by the thieves was $77. In each case the rear doors of the establishments were forced with "jimmies." The thieves were materially assisted in their operation by the fact that an alleyway paralleling Twelfth street extends the entire length of the block, affording a perfect screen. There was no necessity for them to enter the places apparently took their time. Each place was thoroughly ransacked.

The saloon of Clark Nelson, 729 Twelfth street, was the first place entered. The rear door was forced open and $45 from the cash register and the nickel-in-the-slot machine taken.

The other places entered were Kollar's candy store, Bush Cafe, Harvey's safe store and Alois J. Kekel at 373, 375 and 371 Twelfth street, respectively.

There were a number of other small burglaries reported. C. E. Peterson's grocery store at the corner of Eighteenth and San Pablo avenue was entered and $20 in punnies taken. A. Williams, 2446 Grove street, was entered through a rear window and a purse containing $5 taken. Steve Erie and Tony Glever reported that their rooms 708 Fairmont street were entered and $26 50 taken.

PROSPECTOR NEARLY FROZEN TO DEATH

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 22.—The fishing schooner John II, Sprawlers, which arrived today from the Bering Sea, had on board part of the crew of the schooner City of Papeete, which was laid up on account of rough weather at Frigate Cove.

The crew of the Papeto tells a harrowing story of the suffering of one Tom McKinley, a prospector from San Francisco, who managed to make his way to the city of Papeete, after facing death many times.

At Unimak he was overtaken by a storm, lost some of his provisions, was badly frozen and nearly starved to death before he was found by the crew of a passing vessel and given passage to the mainland.

From that point he made his way over heart-breaking obstacles to Frigate Cove, where he was taken in and is now being sheltered on the City of Papeete.

The sailors also tell of the wreck of the two-masted fishing schooner Lottie in Baranof Harbor near Unga. The survivors are now at Sanak awaiting passage on the next vessel.

MRS. HARRIMAN TO TRY LIFE IN TENT

NEW YORK, Feb. 22.—E. H. Harriman, man, who is living in a tent near San Antonio, will be joined next week by his wife and daughter, Carol Harriman. They will leave here for the south on Thursday, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Robert Gerry and Mrs. Robert Goetz and others. The Harriman party will return to New York by way of Chicago after their Mexican and Pacific coast tour.

LOOT LODGE SAFE; GET IMITATION GOLD

Imitation gold was all two cracksmen got early Sunday morning after forcing the safe back to the old Lodge Old Fellow's in Altonia Hall, West Oakland. They were so disgusted that they did not stop to force open the safe belonging to the Masons in the same building.

ACCUSED OF OBTAINING MONEY THROUGH FRAUD

William Ryan, a former employee of the Southern Pacific Company, was arrested yesterday on a charge of obtaining money under false pretenses. He is accused of having collected $90 or more from local business men on the ground he was collecting for a needy woman by the name of Mrs. Frank Grundy, residing at 809 Fruitvale avenue.

DEFECTIVE GAS JET IS CAUSE OF DEATH

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 22.—A defective fixture was responsible for the death of Andrew Luberman, a bartender, 14 years old, who was found dead in his usual condition, with gas flowing from an open jet at 10 o'clock this morning. A physician was summoned, but he died almost immediately.

into the water, was last seen on the top of a large wave going out to sea.

De Golia, who is a strong swimmer, was aided by the swell to reach the shore, but was thoroughly exhausted when the crowd picked him out of the surf and carried him up on the sand. All this time other anxious watchers had stayed the surf and when the rescue of Miss Percy in the water. She was seen to finally swim up both hands and for several minutes everyone supposed that she, too, had been swept to sea.

A shout from one of the watchers gathered the rescuers to another part of the beach and a few moments later Miss Percy was pulled up by the waves about seven hundred yards from where she had entered the water. She was unconscious, and if alive at that time showed no signs of it to those who worked persistently for more than an hour in the hopes of resuscitating her.

Peck's Body Lost

Those who are familiar with the careers of Dopees and who had seen Peck passing out on a large wave offered no hope for his life or even the recovery of his body.

Mr. De Golia, so soon as it was discovered that Peck was lost, went to his attorney, George De Golia, together with his relatives, relatives of the dead girl and friends of young Peck, left at once for the scene of the disaster, to secure the living carb for the dead, and make every effort to recover the body of the young architect.

Victims Were Popular

Miss Percy was the daughter of Mrs. Emily Percy, the widow of the late George W. Percy. She was a sister of Miss Isabella Percy, the actress.

Her mother, Mrs. Emily Percy, is one of the oldest and most respected of the members of the social club and the Daughters of the American Revolution.

They are of one of Oakland's oldest and most exclusive families. The dead girl was the youngest child, and a very much loved and popular member of the younger social set of this city.

Herbert Peck was unmarried and lived at 3050 Claremont avenue. He was one of the most popular members of Berkeley's smartest set and well liked because of his charming manners. One of the last social functions he performed was the leading of one of the big cotillions in Berkeley. He was looked upon as one of the coming architects in that city.

At that point he made his way over heart-breaking obstacles to Frigate Cove, where he was taken in and is now being sheltered on the City of Papeete.

The sailors also tell of the wreck of the two-masted fishing schooner Lottie in Baranof Harbor near Unga. The survivors are now at Sanak awaiting passage on the next vessel.

ATTEND MEMORIAL OF LATE QUEEN

Mausoleum at Frogmore Opened Only One Day of Year

LONDON, Feb. 22.—The memorial service for Queen Victoria, which is held yearly on the anniversary of her death, was attended by fewer members of the royal family than ever before.

On the morning of January 22 the doors of the great mausoleum at Frogmore, almost hermetically sealed all other times, are thrown open and a service takes place which the King and his family and some gentlemen and ladies of the court attend. Then the mausoleum is open to the public for several hours.

The service is very beautiful. A special delegation of choir boys go down to Windsor to furnish the musical part. The finest voices are selected from the various city churches and they are drilled together for a few weeks.

This year owing to illness and absence from the country, the royal family was represented only by King Edward and the Prince and Princess of Wales.

Viewed From Outside

The mausoleum stands close to Windsor Castle, but is only viewed from the outside by tourists as no one is ever allowed to enter it except on this one day in the year. The beautiful dome of the edifice is a conspicuous feature from the Long Walk. It is directly under this dome that the sarcophagus of Queen Victoria rests.

The recumbent figure of the Queen in her full robes of state and her crown is carved in white marble and lies on the top of the sarcophagus. Beside her is the figure of Prince Albert in his Field Marshal's uniform and the mante of the Order of the Garter.

The sarcophagus itself is a solid mass of gray granite. Great angels in bronze kneel at the corners of the tomb. Around it hanging from the archways are lamps of gold and bronze. The main column has not been changed since Queen Victoria had it built as a token of her love for her dead husband and as a resting place for them both.

PASTORS DISCUSS EMMANUEL CURE

Movement Draws an Arbitrary Line Between Nervous and Functional Diseases

The Emmanuel movement was discussed in a number of the Oakland churches yesterday, the various pastors expressing their views on this new development in the science of living healing. Rev. W. D. Simonds of the First Unitarian Church delivered an eloquent sermon on the "Cure" of all Christian diseases and the Allied Movement. He spoke in part as follows:

"In religion, as in life, it is the unexpected that happens. Few things seemed less likely to happen a thirty years ago than that Mary Baker Eddy should found a new religion yet today she has created one. In the same way, a number of modern movements in religion. Right at the outset we must be on our guard against the notion that devotion to a cause, love of the sick, the poor, now, or the healing of sick people, even on a large scale, prove that this is the work of God. The healing is poor only if the certain mental and physical conditions favorable to health have been attained."

"Looking to the good in Christian Science, we note first that it is a definite effort to banish the terrors of fear from religion and life. This is high praise but I believe it deserves it. Second, it has compelled the attention of physicians and practitioners to the power of mind over matter. At heart it is a mind over matter. At heart it is a philosophy of mind over energy."

Creates New Hierarchy

"Christian Science is creating a new religious hierarchy—a new spiritual despotism. The attitude of mind required of us. Every follower is to be a member of an unquestioned priesthood. If it could become general, it would set the world back 500 years. Christian Science ignores or antagonizes that spiritual progress in the world of man which is the result which is one of the chief glories of our age. Sanitation enforced by law and coped successfully with yellow fever and other diseases did not originate in Christian Science program. The early administration of intestinal sears, nose-diphtheria pastes, than all the leadas in the world, yet this is ignored or condemned. Christian Science, however, takes on the greatest plague, the most beneficent of modern movements, receives no aid from Christian Science. It ignores the important fact that the body is delated and affected physical machine amenable to physical influence. The great physical scourges must be fought with physical weapons, plus the mind cheered and strengthened by faith."

"The Emmanuel movement is an attempt to restate this truth, but it is beset by all kinds of difficulties and dangers. It is a movement that lies between nervous and functional diseases, and lies upon a long-suffering world a lot of little men intoxicated with a new power. It is, too, in my judgment, a movement leading backward, not forward. The minister is not called to heal the physical malady by laying on of hands or by any sort of incarnation, but to heal the physical well-being by what can do for the mental and moral life of the people."

Religion Most Important

Rev. George W. White of the First Methodist Church dealt with the significance of the movement. He said in part:

"The movement is the necessary and most important factor of progress from the gross materialism of the last century, in which mental and religious life were expressed in materialistic terms only, the evolution of the mind and soul were explained as purely physical functions, nothing more."

"The common sense of the people has revolted at this, and it has brought in such movements as Christian Science and New Thought and greater emphasis is placed on suggestion and hypnosis. This movement is based on the pendulum from materialism. The Emmanuel movement is an attempt to occupy the middle ground which is usually found to be the most solid and most lasting position. It is, in my view, the extremes of view on any question are the best and right ones. The Emmanuel movement is a middle ground utilized after psychological developments, what is known as the new psychology, as far as it can, but is combining with that the old spiritual spirituality of prayer and faith in God. The question is, what is most interesting to a minister in the study of this movement is to determine which is the most important element in the psychology of the religion. My own judgment is that the religious is the most important, although I would not question that the other has value."

"We will note a number of sermons to the Emmanuel movement. His second will treat of its therapeutic and his third to its theology."

GREAT IRRIGATION SYSTEM OPENED

Water Turned on 200,000
Acres of Land in Payette-
Boise Project

BOISE, Idaho, Feb. 2.—Five thousand people, including representatives of the reclamation service, Governor Brady and members of the Idaho legislature witnessed today the formal opening of the Payette-Boise project, one of the largest reclamation works undertaken by the federal government.

With the headwaters of the canal were raised the waters of the Boise River. They were diverted to more than 200,000 acres of land. The scene of the ceremony was at the big dam eight miles above Boise, which provides the source of water for the entire section of the project. From this point the water is diverted into central systems covering Ada and Canyon counties.

SMOOTH CHECK WORKER VICTIMIZES A MERCHANT

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 22.—An unimportant check writer received a check for $1,000 from a bank on Broadway street out of $1,575 sent up. He entered Garretts' store and persuaded him to cash two checks—each for $950 and the other for $1375. Both are worthless.

THE MOST AMBITIOUS AND COMPREHENSIVE WASH GOODS SHOWING THAT WE HAVE TO OUR EDIT AND WE URGE EVERYONE WHO CAN TO ATTEND AND MAKE THE SELECTIONS WHILE THE STOCK IS FRESH AND INTACT.

Annual Opening Exhibit of Thousands of Yards of Beautiful New Wash Goods

Comprising Greater Varieties and Better Values than Ever Presented in any Previous Introductory Display

AN EVENT extraordinary—our Annual Opening Exhibit of New Spring Cottons—the announcement of which is eagerly awaited by hundreds of women every year.

What higher praise could we bestow on this new display than to say that it is even more extensive and beautiful—even more tempting from a value standpoint—than any we have ever before assembled and arranged!

The choicest product of the world-famous looms of Europe and America, all fresh from their wrappings and charming in their Springlike beauty and newness, are here in a variety of fabrics, colorings and designs, which fairly baffle description.

SEE the special display occupying 120 feet of window space, and from that get a foretaste of the truly wonderful exhibit that awaits you inside the store.

WE have never invited attention to any merchandise exhibit in which we took such pride or which was more richly deserving of public interest.

THIS is the most ambitious and comprehensive Wash Goods showing that we have to our edit and we urge everyone who can to attend and make the selections while the stock is fresh and intact. Even if you are not ready to buy don't deny yourself the delightful pleasure of studying the artistically-arranged display and reviewing its many and exquisitely-woven numbers, of which the following are but a very few:

Lustrous Silk-Mixed Novelties

THIS is easily the record season for beautiful silk-mixed wash fabrics. The finish texture and patterning are so exquisite that it is difficult to differentiate between them and pure silk.

This beautiful line includes the "Shantung," "San Toy," "Suecia" and "Muriel" wash silks, organdies, silk mulls, silk foulards and a dozen other novelties.

The very liberal color range includes all the staples as well as the daintiest effects in wisteria, smoke, taupe, Copenhagen, cattawba, castor, Darli blue, olive, iseda, old rose, sky, Jasper helio, maize, cream and natural pongee.

The prices of these silk mixtures range from 29c to 50c yd.

Novelty White Goods

Here you will find the pick of the finest manufacturers of England, France, Switzerland and America from the sheerest batistes, Swissies, dimples, embroidered novelties, mercerized jacquard waistings, corded Madras and checked nainsook, to the heavy Oxfords and poplins and linens 12½c up to 75c yd.

The Supremacy of Ginghams

The imported novelty ginghams of this season are rich and varied beyond the dreams of even two years ago. Dainty effects in satin, satin borders, wavy painted Dresden patterns, and novelty striped effects in checks, stripes and plaids are some of Spring's latest.

The admiration-compelling "Phasse Parisien" is a satined striped zephyr gingham with striking patterns between stripes giving remarkable brilliancy to off-white 35c and 60c yd.

Imported Scotch zephyr ginghams wonderful 25c and 35c yd.

Complete stock of staple and domestic gingham 10c, 12½c and up.

SIGNOR IS READY FOR PRISON TERM

Transfer of Forger to San Quentin Will Take Place
Wednesday

This being a legal holiday Sheriff Butte postponed the transfer of C. B. Signor, who has seven years of imprisonment awaiting him in the face of charges from the county jail to the penitentiary at San Quentin until Wednesday when the convicted man will surely enter upon prison life.

Signor has wound up all his private affairs in Oakland and expresses a desire to begin serving his sentence as soon as possible.

Signor's wife, who will accompany Signor to San Quentin, or how he will get there, will determine tomorrow. If the transfer is made in an automobile Signor will have to hire the machine and pay for it. It is said the car is highly improbable because the prisoner is entirely without funds.

ALLEGED LIQUOR THIEF IS CHARGED WITH CRIME

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 22.—White Police, who are investigating the shooting of a police officer at the Baldwin Avenue saloon, shortly before midnight last night, have noticed George Peterson emerging from a saloon carrying an armful of bottles. Peterson maintained that he had paid for the liquor and Logan was about to let him go when Michael Derrill, the proprietor, came forth and gave the lie to his words. Peterson was booked at the Petrone station on a charge of petty larceny.

POLICE HOLD JAPANESE FOR DEADLY ASSAULT

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 22.—Joe Nishi, a Japanese cook residing at 1855 Bush Street, was taken into custody by Police Officer Sullivan and Schomberg last night after he had been pointed out by J. B. Phillips as the man who had slashed Jim McRae of 580 Post street with a knife two days ago. He is in a critical condition.

SIX DARING CYCLISTS

Then think of six daring and expert cyclists leaping and spinning around the confines of the stage. The Baker Troope money the greatest enthusiasm in their exhibition and though hand-to-hand combat to some extent by the several cyclists in which they will be pitted to each other in a fierce struggle for supremacy.

BLIND HOME IS BEST IN WORLD

Superintendent Says Part of Relief Fund Should go to Institution

SACRAMENTO, Feb. 22.—According to the report of Superintendent Sanders of the Adm. Blind Home on Telegraph Avenue, Oakland, made to the legislature, the home is the foremost of its kind in the world. The report shows that in the state of California is understood to have no more for the blind than any other state.

The average number of persons residing in the home was 120. The average cost per month was $20.15. The weekly cost was $5. The cost of operation was $10,224. The maintenance fee was therefore $559 per week, $17 per day, 2 cents.

Many Want Home

The superintendent says that he has on file a large number of applications from blind and infirm blind people that a problem confronts the board of directors to provide for them. He regrets the lack of power to alleviate their suffering in holding out any hope in prospect for the future. The only way the directorate could be prevailed upon would be to appeal to the legislature to provide an appropriate sum to meet the additional expenses of maintaining this auxiliary to the home, should the blind refugees of San Francisco after the disaster to their city be numerous.

Still at Asylum

Many of those refugees, the report continues, are still alive, but it is the belief of the committee that the board of directors has done all it can do to help them. The superintendent says that the board of directors has done all it can do to help them.

The blind of the State of California are in a deep debt of gratitude to our Governor, the Hon. J. N. Gillett, and to the Legislature that appropriated the money with which to erect

Many Are Injured During Destruction of Buildings in Greenwood County

KANSAS CITY Feb. 22.—It is reported that a tornado has partially destroyed the town of Reece in Greenwood county, Kansas, a village, and seven persons are said to have been killed. Wires are down and details are lacking. Reece is on the Missouri Pacific 40 miles east of Wichita.

Buildings Destroyed

WICHITA, Kas., Feb. 22.—Passengers who have just reached this city from Eldorado Bay, say that they learned there that the Missouri Pacific depot and four buildings at Reece, Kas., were destroyed by a wind storm this morning. S. S. Smith, night telegraph operator at Reece, Kansas, and John Wells at Baldwin, told visitors of Reece, were injured. The Missouri Pacific's pumping station at Baldwin was blown across the railroad track and ran into by a train.

Legislative Measures Endorsed

Among the measures pending before the state legislature several were endorsed, including the proposed legislation to create a state-state constructed railroads, the bill authorizing the railroad commission to determine the values of railroads, a holding poll tax and exempting small householders from personal property tax, favoring direct legislation and county government.

The most radical legislation proposed to the committee on resolutions was embodied in resolutions dealing with the Japanese in California. In one of these the party is pledged to support school segregation of Asiatics the policy of buying land ownership to foreigners of this class and repudiation of the treaty with Japan.

Tonight the delegates will attend a banquet.

S. F. Society

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 22.—The Ichimess is a thing of the past, but will it be numbered as the most successful amateur entertainment in even a century? The society was well as a financial point of view. Notwithstanding the rain of Saturday, the Central Theater was packed at both performances. The voting was most exciting and, in consequence, the two worthy charities, the San Francisco Maternity Home and Children's Hospital, are richer by the amount of their receipts. The Maternity home won the undivided prize, and after the last performance were entertained at supper at the Fairmont by Mr. and Mrs. M. H. de Young.

The dining room of the St. Francis Hotel was crowded Saturday evening by many of the society, so much so that to make the affair a success, the Tarantella girls were the guests of the Paranteen boys, and the Marsonians dancers were the guests of the clowns. Mrs. M. H. de Young and Mrs. Foster Duffin, the Portola girls, were the other guests. The harvest dancers were the guests of their chaperones, Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Simpson, Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Buse, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Irvin Bentley, Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Showell and Mr. and Mrs. William Marion. The fluffy tutties were entertained by Mr. and Mrs. Walter Gray, Mrs. John McNeil, Mrs. Wilson Dunn, Fannimore, Mrs. Letitia Lenthal and Mrs. Frederick Van Slyker.

Mrs. Stewart is most enthusiastic over the Ichimess, and she is the more successful no one has ever managed. Mrs. Stewart goes direct from San Francisco to Portland, where the Klimes will be held during Easter week.

One of the most magnificent affairs of the season was the huge luncheon given on Saturday at the Fairmont Hotel by Mr. and Mrs. Charles C. Gandy. In the Laurel Court and the thirty light fixtures were seated at a large oval table exquisitely decorated in spring like flowers. Clusters of pink roses, amaranthus, white lilies, tulips, and rainbow shades of tulip and silver grape bows. Among those who enjoyed Miss Gandy's hospitality on this occasion were Mr. Henry J. Dodge, Mr. William H. Morris, Mr. George Williams, Thomas, Mrs. R. G. Jones, Miss Fouto, Miss Clark, Mrs. Belshaw, Miss Fletcher, Mrs. Mrs. Towne, Mrs. Clinton, Mrs. Alice O'Connor, Mrs. Frank O'Connor, Janet Coleman, Mrs. Charles Veltel, Miss Anna Wells, Bronx, von Schreiber, Miss Janet, Von Schreiber, Miss May, Veltel, Mr. and Mrs. George, Miss Eddie, Miss G. FACE LONG TERMS IN PENITENTIARY

Chief Wilson Wants to Make Example of Recaptured Jail Breakers

Instead of having to serve a short time for city offenses, C. K. Strobridge and Homer Stilcup, two of the eight prisoners who cut their way to liberty out of the city jail but were recaptured will have to face long charges with every prospect of spending two to five years in the penitentiary.

Strobridge had only a little while longer to serve, but joined with the other man in making his escape because it was easy. He now faces a penitentiary term. His liberty was short-lived as he was captured 18 hours after his escape in San Leandro. The other man captured Stilcup was caught in Fresno. Policeman Gilbert C. Ahern is bringing the latter here.

Chief of Police Wilson states he wishes to make an example of those men and the other two prisoners from attempting escape. Under the law it is a felony to escape a public jail. Both the recaptured prisoners will be in the police court tomorrow morning.

A-Y-P BOOSTERS VISIT OAKLAND

Come to Tell the Story of the Great Seattle Exposition

An informal reception was tendered to the A-Y-P boosters who are visiting the state fair, are touring the coast in a special train over the Northern Pacific by the chamber of commerce. They left Seattle Saturday morning, spending the afternoon at Portland followed by a reception at the Commercial hotel. In the evening, 500 men were made at Grand Lodge Hall, all of whom were invited to the exposition. The A-Y-P boosters were greeted by committees representing the various comfraternal lodges.

The visitors arrived in Oakland this morning and after a tour through Berkeley and the university grounds returned to San Francisco. The group, led by Sam Malone, A-Y-P leader, was greeted at San Francisco at 6 o'clock, then proceeded to dinner at the Fairmont hotel.

WHAT OF JURY?

"And now the first question requires In the trial of a case, to whom shall it be given to a body of men who represent but one class of the community shall the application of these fundamental principles be confined? Shall it be intrusted to a judge or to juries, or to a body composed of all classes?"

"For my own part I have no hesitation in answering this question. I believe in the right of the people to make their own laws. In the light of the people's right of the people to make their own laws, I believe in their right to administer them. I give my instant assent therefore to the word uttered by one of the chief justices of England of the Victorian era who summed up his judicial experience by saying:

"A jury trial gives expression to the sense of justice of the people which is the nearest approach to absolute justice attainable in earthly vicinities."

PERSONAL OF PARTY

The excursion is under the auspices of the Seattle and Tacoma Comfraternals of the Knights of Columbus.

John J. Murphy, Mayor of Seattle, is a guest of honor on the excursion.

The Tacoma Chamber of Commerce is represented by W. B. Bradles and D. C. L. Luisi. F. Cook is representing the local boosters Club on the excursion.

TAKE VISITORS ON TOUR OF COUNTY

Wives of B'nai B'rith Delegates Entertained at Luncheon by Local Women

Automobile ride around Alameda county and a luncheon at the Pleasanton Club house were the diversion to day for the wives of the visiting delegates of the grand lodge independent Order of Elks.

The visitors were delightfully entertained. Spots of interest in the bay cities were seen by the guests, who were particularly interested in the work of the members of Oakland Lodge.

The committee was composed of Mrs. Julio Abrahams, Mrs. Abraham Jones, Mrs. Marcus, Mrs. Sul Kuhn, Mrs. M. P. Linder, Mrs. Morris Schneider, Mrs. George Samuel, Mrs. Frank Rittig, and Mrs. Hugo Abrahamsen, as hostess of the day. They were most gracious and charming.

CONCRETE TOWN IS NOW PLANNED

Metaline, Wash., Will Be the First of the Kind in the World

The old English words were written in 1861 by a Mr. George Moore, a poet.

England had one grand one, too.

The first author unknown was intended to decide Queen Anne's great dispute about the rights of the people to make their own laws.

He decided in favor of the people.

He wrote the words for the first time.

The song was adopted in England and was sung by the people.

It is now sung in America.

The Cost of the Assessor's Office.

The popular impression that the increased allowance for the expenses of his office asked by the Assessor is an increase of his salary or personal compensation is a mistaken one. The increase is asked for on the ground that the work of the office has greatly increased, necessitating the employment of a much larger force than was formerly necessary.

The cost of assessing Alameda county is less than half the cost in Los Angeles county, although the volume of work in the Alameda office is considerably larger. Last year the Alameda assessment roll contained 22,000 pages, while that of Los Angeles county contained only 18,000 pages. Yet the gross expense of the Alameda Assessor's office was $39,025 as against $92,700 for Los Angeles.

In eight years the volume of the work of the Alameda county Assessor's office has increased 118 per cent while the added expense is only 52 per cent, showing that the added allowance for cost is a little more than 50 per cent of the increase in work.

Unless it is desired to cut off the revenue from that source, the proposition to deprive the Assessor of a percentage of the poll tax collections is foolish and abortive. Unless somebody is specially paid to collect poll tax the larger proportion of it remains unpaid. That is demonstrated in San Francisco, where the Assessor receives no percentage for collecting poll tax. In 1905, when the San Francisco Assessor received a percentage of the collections, there was turned into the treasury from poll tax receipts $104,894.90. In 1906, after the commissions were taken from him, he turned into the treasury only $89,126.75 as poll tax receipts. Again, in 1907, he turned in $61,033.85; and in 1908 he turned in $61,951. Or a total loss of revenue in the three years of $102,573.10.

Says the Biennial Report of the State Board of Equalization of California, 1907-1908, page 12: "There is a growing tendency of late to place the assessors on a straight salary basis, and providing in law that all 'fees and commissions' ordinarily received by that officer shall be paid into the county treasury."

"This is unwise legislation, extremely hurtful to the State's revenues, and should be stopped."

"It is certainly apparent that the great incentive for this collection is in the commissions awarded for its collection, and that without this incentive due diligence will not be exercised to collect the tax."

Either the poll tax should be abolished altogether or the Assessor allowed a commission for collecting it. As a matter of fact, the greater part of his commission is paid to special deputies employed as poll tax collectors.

It is not fair to double an official's work without increasing his compensation or allowing additional assistance. Nobody does such a thing in the ordinary course of business, and there is no reason why an unjust rule should be applied to the County Assessor.

The Territories Must Wait.

Apparently Arizona and New Mexico are not to be made States at this session of Congress. The Senate objects to haste, and is also loth to appear as obeying the orders of the President. Nor, indeed, is there any special reason to hurry the admission of the two waiting Territories, and there is some excuse for delay. At the next session of Congress doubtless an admission bill will be passed. It will do the Territories no harm to wait another year or so longer, particularly as there will be no Presidential election for the next four years. Anyway the attempt of the President to rush the buck in the matter of making new States out of Arizona and New Mexico looks like an effort to get a little cheap glory at the close of his administration and also has the appearance of an endeavor to drive Congress into obeying the White House mandate. But for Roosevelt, Arizona and New Mexico would now be States of the Union. He held up Oklahoma as long as he could and exerted all the powers and influence at his command to force Arizona and New Mexico to come in as one State. Now he bases his demand for immediate separate Statehood on the declaration made in its favor by the Republican National platform adopted at Chicago last July. But the Statehood plank of the Chicago platform is only binding on the Congress elected upon it last November. The President is trying to force this Congress to fulfill in its closing days a pledge which it is the duty of the next Congress to redeem. As before stated, his rush for Statehood is in singular contrast to the resolution he formerly displayed in balking the aspirations of the Territories for admission.

"The big stick" has become suddenly inactive, for it does not appear to be swinging in the direction of Honolulu, where the Territorial Legislature has before it two anti-Japanese bills, as it swung toward Sacramento when the Legislature of this State was considering the adoption of anti-Japanese measures. One of the bills introduced in the Hawaiian Legislature prohibits aliens from fishing in the Territorial waters, and the other imposes a heavy tax on sampans employed in the fisheries. That these bills are aimed directly at the Japanese is conclusively proved by the fact that they are the only aliens engaged in the fisheries, and they are, likewise, the only fishermen using sampans. Perhaps the inactivity of "the big stick" is due to the belief that public sentiment in the islands is not favorable to the measures, which is said to be the case. At the same time there has been much agitation in Honolulu over the flocking of Japanese to the Territory and the unwelcome results which may grow out of their settlement there.

Someone connected with the Navy Department was guilty of an unpardonable oversight in the preparation of invitations to guests to witness the Presidential review of the battleship fleet on the termination of its all-round-the-world cruise at Hampton Roads today, when the name of Admiral Robley D. Evans was omitted from the list. If it was not an oversight, it must have been a deliberate snub and intended to rankle in the heart of the veteran sea warrior. After carrying the great fleet safely over the most dangerous stretch of the long voyage, he was entitled to the courtesy of joining in the welcome to its return to the port whence it started under his command.

The British suffragettes are bent on stirring up another scene at the House of Commons next Wednesday, when they intend that a deputation shall invade it to force an interview with Prime Minister Asquith. They have given such publicity, however, to their plans that their purpose may be considered defeated beforehand, for the government is sure to adopt measures which will amply protect the Commons from interference even if it has to call the entire metropolitan police force to its aid.

Complex Central Basin Problems.

The recent flooding of the Sacramento valley has revived the interest of government engineers in the complex problems which figure in the drainage of the great central basin of the State. These problems embrace the protection of the interests of navigation, which means the prevention of the deposit of mining and agricultural silt in the beds of the navigable streams; the reclamation of marsh lands; the conservation of water for the irrigation of arid lands; the protection of the cultivated lands from overflow, and the carrying out of a system of flood water control which will make overflow practically impossible. Associated with these problems, particularly in the control of the flood waters, the preservation of the forests cut an important figure.

In a recent interview, Director F. H. Newell of the United States Reclamation Service calls attention to the fact that while these complex problems have been separately considered by special commissions of experts, the results reached by their several surveys and investigations have not been co-ordinately considered. What is needed now, as Mr. Newell points out very clearly, is the assembling together of the data gathered by the various engineering commissions, and their careful study by an efficient commission representing all of the interests concerned and the working out by it of a comprehensive plan of development for submission to the State Legislature and Congress, whose co-operation is essential.

When the Legislature appropriated recently $400,000 toward the survey and correction of the Sacramento river, it was assumed that the initial step toward co-operation between the State and Federal governments had been taken, as Congress had previously appropriated an equal amount, conditional on the action taken by the Legislature. Unfortunately there seems to be a hitch in the movement at its very inception, as the Federal authorities have declared that the Congressional appropriation must remain under Federal control and cannot be transferred to the State for expenditure by its agents. It ought not to be difficult to arrange matters so that the State and Federal authorities will co-operate. Unless this is done, in all probability the appropriations will be expended for cross purposes and the money frittered away without producing the best results.

Opening of Panama Canal.

The statement made by Isham Randolph, one of the seven engineers who accompanied Taft on his recent visit to Panama, that the great trans-isthmian ship canal will probably be completed by January 1, 1914, has an important bearing upon the commercial interests of Oakland as well as San Francisco. It means that both cities have less than five short years in which to put their harbor facilities in proper shape to accommodate the increase in ocean commerce which will surely demand them. There is urgent necessity in particular for the hastening of all harbor improvements in which Oakland and the Federal government are concerned, so that we will be able to meet any demand which may be made by commerce.

When the canal is open, it is, of course, anticipated that it will divert this way much of the commerce with the Orient which now follows the Suez canal route. The Golden Gate lies so close to the path which the vessels in the trade will follow that San Francisco bay will then become the most important port of call for supplies and repairs for the great merchant fleet engaging in it, which, with the natural increase in our own commerce, will make enormous demands on our harbor facilities and means for the accommodation of ocean-going ships. If we hope to profit by it we will be called upon to strain every resource during the next five years to meet the new conditions which will then confront us.

The City Engineer's suggestion that the Council prepare plans immediately for urgent street improvements instead of waiting until the tax levy is fixed is a good one. The unadvised of putting off operations of this character until the rainy season sets in has been abundantly demonstrated this winter. Since New Year's day very little has been done to public works under way. Almost everything in this line has been suspended. What little has been done has been accomplished under the most disadvantageous circumstances. We are nearing the end of the rainy season. The dry weather period is the only economical working season of the year and every advantage should be taken of it.

WASHINGTON

Thou first in war and peace, as first thou art
In every loyal, loving patriot heart.
Here we to thee, on this thy natal day,

That herald ever blew on trumpet of fame.
Thy name, thy fame, thy glory shall be sung
While time endures, by every tribe and tongue.

A plausible reason why the Rev. Mr. Smith, the evangelist, chooses to be called "Gypsy" Smith is that his real name is Rodney.

The value of these unique curtains is estimated at 25,000 francs.

The magnificent new London County Hall will be built on five and a half acres of land between Belvedere Road and the Thames, almost opposite the Houses of Parliament. CLOSE SCHOOL FOR PROTECTION OF SEWER Edition TRIBUNE: In your issue of Saturday evening, February 20, an article appeared under the heading of "What This Effect on Sanitation," which the managers of Highland district brand as false. As for the closing of the school bridge, the W. M. Clark mentioned did not say he had the power to do so. The school was closed by the decision of the school board to protect the school property. As for stagnant water under the basement door, it is an impossibility, for there is a concrete foundation two feet below surface of ground, thirty inches wide at the base. The basement floor is solid concrete three and one-half inches thick. We have to empty the septic tank and haul it away, but the heavy rains have made it impossible to do so, therefore the school was closed to protect our sewer system. Yours respectfully, D. L. BEEVER.

The world's largest single collection of anthropological specimens, accumulated during more than a half-century, is in Washington. It includes between 4000 and 5000 identified skulls and skeletons of human beings, sixty mounted skeletons and nearly 200 brains. The last named are arranged in special jars, placed upon tiers of shelves, and include some specimens of rare value. Among them are the only two American Indian brains anywhere in preservation; also those of five wild gibbons, and a perfect brain of a male full-grown American bison.

COWBOY MASTERSWILD RUNAWAY

Leaping at Head of Frenzied Horse He Stops Mad Flight

ELMHURST, Feb. 22.—A spectacular runaway horse left the track of many ponies, were endeavoring to find their way to Elmhurst residents Saturday afternoon, tearing madly down several roads and scattering the children and their parents in all directions to get out of the way of the maddest horse. Frank Rogers, an ex-cowboy, buried himself at the head of the animal, which had been dragged almost a block, brought the frenzied beast to a standstill. Rogers was cheered to the echo for his brave act, but took no pleasure in it, as he had been left standing on East Fourteenth street by Frank Petrelli. Becoming frightened at a passing automobile the animal turned and ran back to the street, but Rogers, who had been running alongside the animal, leaped into the path of the fleeing horse and held him fast. The animal dashed through the air, striking Rogers, who was thrown to the ground, and Rogers sprang through the air, skillfully grasped the dragging reins and hung on.

The noise of the runway brought the neighbors, a number of whom had been watching the scene. Realizing the situation was becoming desperate, Petrelli threw himself to the ground, and the animal dashed through the air, striking Rogers, who was thrown to the ground, and Rogers sprang through the air, skillfully grasped the dragging reins and hung on. It took some time to bring the horse to a standstill, but Rogers pluckily stuck at the stall until he wore down his antagonist. The horse was badly cut in his wild dash, but Rogers was also the worse for his part in the run.

MISS ELINOR PARKER,
A Hostess at the Country Club Today.

MISS ALICE DABNEY,
A Complimented
Bride-Elect.

The Claremont Country Club today is the mecca for the members of the smart set. This holiday is enjoyed by the members of the exclusive club in a most delightful manner. Golf and tennis tournaments are played on the links and green during the day, concluding with the dinner and dance in the evening. Many parties are being entertained, the glorious sunshine adding much to the pleasure of the occasion.

Miss Elinor Parker was one of the hostesses of the day, entertaining as her special guests of honor Miss Marion Walsh, and her fiance, Dr. John Louis Lohse, covers being laid at her table for eighteen. Others attending the parties at dinner were: Thomas Rhoads, who presided at one of the largest tables; his guests including twenty friends. Mr. and Mrs. John Clay Hampton were the host and hostess at a prettily decorated table, where they entertained ten guests. N. G. Ulrich and A. Kely each had congenial parties, covers being laid for eleven and twelve respectively. Dr. Moffitt and Dr. Davis each presided over a table, their field of play the ladies who entertained congenial guests were: A. L. Harrison, Miss Emma Athanasy, Harry Smith, Mr. Gertude George de Golia, Charles Cannon, W. H. Morrison, L. Crosby, E. C. Frasher, C. L. Walker, E. R. Braden, Mrs. Eddie, Mrs. Page and Mr. Rosser. The pretty dining hall was handsomely decorated with spring blossoms and masses of foliage. In the picturesque boudoir the decorations are principally of greens, which are attractive against the dark wood. Every place will be engaged for the dinner, which will be followed by the holiday dance.

The beautiful weather brought out an unusually brilliant gathering, the grounds and clubhouse being thronged throughout the day and evening with the merry young people.

REGULAR SESSION.

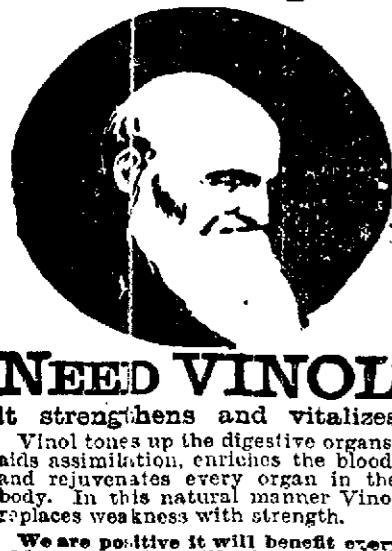

The Ladies of the Legion Table held their regular session at the home of Mrs. Martin on Friday afternoon. Exceptionally interesting papers were given by Mrs. Sherman and Mrs. Hall. Mrs. James Wilkeson presided over tea, giving the amusing story of the "Inconsiderate Walter," by J. M. Barry. The evening party of the club was satisfactorily given by Mrs. A. Mouritz at her home on Santa Clara avenue. Mrs. Mouritz was assisted by her charming daughters, Nora and Gertrude. The prettiest favors were given by Mrs. Auguste Hall and Mrs. Edwards. Eloise Hall and Herbert Merrill. An impromptu program followed Mrs. Julius Joseph, "Welsh Classes, Graceful Old Age," and by request, "The Symphony Concert by Aunt Prudence." Mr. Sherman and Mrs. Merrill gave several duets. Mrs. Constable, Miss Mouritz, Clarence Sherman and Herbert Merrill followed with two quartets. The program was greatly enjoyed. A sumptuous supper was daintily served and a most delightful evening will be recalled by those present. Mrs. Mouritz's guests were:

Mr. and Mrs. James Wilson, Miss Mouritz, Mrs. Julia E., Mr. and Mrs. Tracy, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Edwards, Mrs. Williams, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Sherman, Mr. and Mrs. Eloise Hall, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Merrill, Mrs. Mouritz, Mr. and Mrs. Edwards, Mr. and Mrs. Mrs. Mercy, Mr. and Mrs. Vanlouen, Constable, Miss Mouritz, Mrs. H. SOCIETY GIRL GOES ON STAGE

Mlle. Dietz-Monnin Assumes Parts in Self Written Plays

PARIS, Feb. 22.—The latest recruit to the Paris stage is a young society girl, Mlle. Juliette Dietz-Monnin, who made her debut last week at the Bouffes-Parisiens under the stage name of Juliette Charon.

Young Society Girl

Mlle. Dietz-Monnin is a relative of the late Senator of that name and has already appeared in amateur theatricals with M. de Gerny and M. de Berneuil. She is one of the best waiters in Paris, an enthusiastic skater and a champion lawn tennis player.

About a year ago it was announced that she was betrothed to Francis de Croisset, a dramatic author, but it ended in a rupture and the engagement was cancelled.

Since then Mlle. Dietz-Monnin has been studying stagecraft assiduously under the guidance of Mme. Therese Kolb of the Comedie Francaise, who predicts for her a dramatic career equal to that of Mme. Clémence, the divorced wife of M. Jules Barbier.

The play in which she made her debut is a new comedy by René Coquin, entitled "I Fols 7, 28" or "I Times 7, 28."

Won Strange Suit

A young woman who combines the professions of dramatic author and actress, "Juliette," has just won a suit which turned in strange litigation.

She is Mlle. Juliette Laporte, who, as Jeanne d'Orléans, was to play entitled "Moulin à Tragique" (A Tragedy Box), which was produced some time ago at the Gymnase, where it ran four nights.

Although only twenty-two, she had already written another play, "Pulecinella," and that work caused the lawsuit.

The manager at the Casino Theater at Chatelet agreed to play "Pulecinella" throughout the summer season if Mlle. Laporte would stick to him to the extent of $3000.

She gave bills of exchange for that amount, stipulating that the manager should forfeit $3000 if the play was not performed the whole season.

After a year, says the girl, she was asked to leave the theater and she refused.

The holder of the bills sued before the Tribunal de Commerce, whose Judges decided that she must pay.

She appealed and the higher court has now vacillated her, owing to the manager's failure to produce "Pulecinella" all the season.

BRYAN'S LAST WORD MAY UNITE FACTIONS

DENVER, Feb. 22.—The "Republican" today says that William J. Bryan, after interviewing with State Representative Hicks, author of the Hicks-Sentt bill, primary law, in which Hicks urged that Bryan announce his position with regard to the law more unequivocally than he did in his address to the Legislature last week, has done so.

After a half hour's discussion, Bryan announced his position with regard to the law more unequivocally than he did in his address to the Legislature last week, stating his position, which is to veto the last resort. It is believed that this letter will have the effect of uniting the opposing factions in the Legislature on the bill if other means fail.

After addressing the Bible class of the Central Presbyterian Church and the Y. M. C. A., Mr. Bryan left last night for Lincoln.

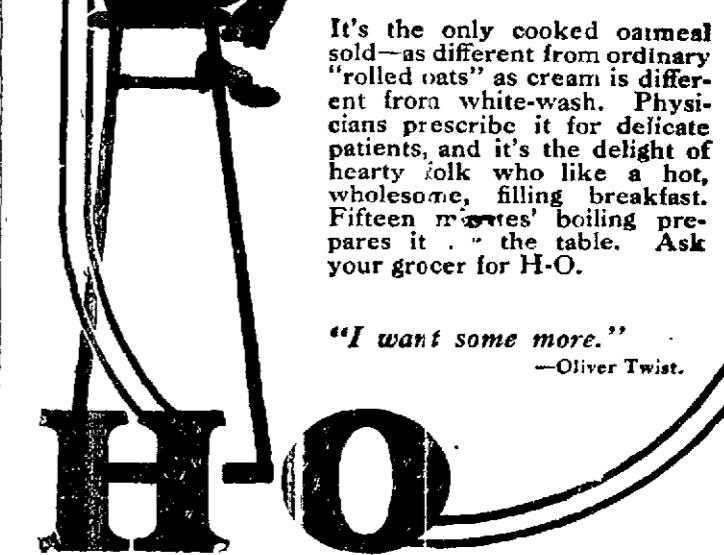

PROPOSE TO EXAMINE STUDENTS PHYSICALLY.

SACRAMENTO, Feb. 22.—The files of the Legislature are loaded down with bills providing amendments to the school laws of the State, many of which, with little debate, have passed one or the other of the houses. The most interesting of these is one which passed the house without objection and which was introduced by Assemblyman Ferling of San Francisco by request.

Members of B'nai B'rith Discuss Erection of New Home for Lodge

RITUAL CAUSES LIVELY ARGUMENT

Attempt to Remove Secrecy From Lodge Affairs Lost by Large Vote

The creation of a new home for the B'nai B'rith in San Francisco was the vital point at issue at the morning session of the district grand lodge No. 4 Independent Order of B'nai B'rith now assembled in Pythian Castle, Twelfth and Alice streets. Rev. Dr. M. S. Levy, grand president, presided. The session was attended by delegates from every lodge in District No. 4 and was one of the most enthusiastic meetings in the history of the order.

The question of building on the old site at Eddie and Taylor streets or at Geary and Polk streets caused much discussion. No decision was made regarding the location of the new edifice. In the month of September the northwest corner of Geary and Polk streets was offered the B. B. F. Association as a site for the new home of the order.

$60,000 for Lot

The board of directors looked with favor upon the proposition and at once began to negotiate for its purchase. The property was finally handed over to the board for the price of $60,000. The lot is paid for with money that have come to the board by the release of the $55,000 mortgage that was held on the property on the corner of Van Ness avenue and Taylor street. A great majority voted to build the edifice on the old site at Eddie and Taylor street, but that idea has not met the approval of the grand lodge.

Fight Over Ritual

George Black, a delegate from Los Angeles made a strong fight for the removal of the secrecy from the ritual. The proposition was submitted to the subordinate lodges on the Pacific Coast, who voted twenty against removal, three in favor of it and three non-committal. The idea met with an overwhelming defeat.

Hearty Welcome

The delegates to the forty-sixth annual convention of District Grand Lodge No. 1 Independent Order of B'nai B'rith were tendered a hearty welcome by the officers of the local lodge on their arrival.

Each of the representatives from all parts of the Pacific coast were greeted by the people of Oakland. They were invited to the reception last evening when a most elaborate program closed the activities of yesterday's sessions.

Annual Address

During the meeting Rev. Dr. Levy, president of District No. 4 gave his annual address which outlined the work the order had accomplished during the past year. The question of the ritual was not mentioned. The ritual of the order was referred to in his message.

The distinguished clergymen said that the idea of an open association not with secret but with fraternal good fellowship is universal.

"Then comes pride—while protecting you from quality we have you an average of from ten to twenty-five per cent on all goods. The system is a cleanhouse in the first place Quality is our slogan Goods must have Quality with Quality stands our guarantee, method back if you want us."

"Money for Orphans

At the first session of the convention $600 was raised for the Jewish Orphan's Home in Los Angeles and $600 for the Jewish educational institution in San Francisco.

In a talk at Oakland Dr. Levy mentioned the powerful influence of the coffee bill, saying one-quarter of your coffee bill, saving 5 cents to 10 cents off of a cup of coffee, we have saved up a sack of flour 25 cents or more on a sack of potato 10 per cent more on laundry or toll a cent.

"We sell only cash either directly from the manufacturers or on a cash basis thereby securing all the discounts.

"We put up all goods by the aid of special methods, never giving away, never economic in the times. Such handling of your goods insures even amount of weight and a cleanliness not found in the old fashioned and expensive way of handling goods.

"We sell only cash either over the counter or through our new books of demand notes. $100 and $200 coupons are the same as cash and received at any time for goods or cash.

"Our stores and methods it will pay you to visit.

"The business without soon ceases to exist. Soul is necessary to serve. Courtesy, kindness, honesty and efficiency are the main assets and the good public should realize it.

Evening Reception

At last night's reception Gus C. Ringolsky, district deputy of District No. 4 was master of ceremonies. He was introduced as chairman of the evening by Rev. Dr. W. H. Ringolsky, president of the local lodge.

Mr. Ringolsky is one of the zealous workers for the cause in this community.

GIRLS HAPPY OVER ADDED PRIZE

Pretty Lasses Will Compete for Watch; Get an Automobile of Your Own.

When yesterday's paper containing the announcement of the extra class and the new prize for girls from 16 to 17 reached nearly thousand homes it is said THE TRIBUNE'S great interest in apparel was sent forth. Not only were the eligible girls delighted at having a division for themselves, but the other contestants and the general public showed appreciation of THE TRIBUNE'S thoughtfulness in providing for the girls.

Looks Good to Them

By 8 o'clock this morning a number of the young girls had signified their intention of leaving the regular class which they were working so hard and saving the change competing for the $50 gold watch. The first girls to enroll in the new division are Alice Renwick, Grace

BUD CLARK,
A Boy With a Busy Subscription Book.

McDavid, Elvyn Sears, Marie Fox, Violet Chapman and Martha Loresback.

Others Will Stay

There is nothing compulsory in this new division and quite a few of the young ladies who are under 17 years of age will prefer to go on working for the phones, instead of changing. It does not matter what they do, so long as everyone is satisfied. There is no reason why a 15-year-old girl should not have as good a chance of winning a piano as a maid of twenty. She may work for subscriptions, but if she thinks it is easier to work against girls more nearly her own age, and prefers a beautiful watch to a piano, or a trip, she has the opportunity to change.

New Nominations Welcome

THE TRIBUNE hopes there will be many new nominations in the class for young girls, and is offering all the documents to the girls who enter now. As the contest is well launched and some of the girls will leave their former divisions with several thousand votes, THE TRIBUNE will let the nomination of each girl count during the contest in this class count for 500 votes, so that she may go onto the roll of honor at once and have her name in the paper from the first. Furthermore, the same offer holds good for the girls in the new division who already been in the contest, but have not had the necessary 500 votes. She will also be given a total of 500 votes so that she may start to work on an even footing with those newly entered.

Only One Division

This new class unites all districts in one, i.e., girls from any of the districts wishing to change will go into the one class, for which the $50 watch will be the prize. Also it should be understood that girls are not to compete in two classes, but must choose whether they will stay in the regular division and work for pianos or transfer to the new division. The class has a claim to the name of just what the others have. The first list of the new class will appear tomorrow and girls from 16 to 17 who care to change are requested to write to the contest department signifying their desire. The change should be made as soon as possible.

Your Neighbor's Automobile

Those who are certainly motorizing, just the sort of day when you can't help envying your more fortunate neighbor when he goes whizzing by you in his dashing red automobile as you go out to take the street car. You try to forget how fine it would be to spin along the boulevard and you try not to think of the people you would take on a run to San Jose next Sunday. Well, it's a fact, though what's the use when you haven't a thousand or two you don't need.

A Great Silk Sale Tomorrow

FASHIONABLE BEAUTIES AT A LILLIPUTIAN PRICE

As the Result of a Shrewd Purchase by Our Resident New York Buyer—Who Is Ever on the Alert to Secure Bargains for Our Customers—We Have About 3000 Yards of New and Stylish Spring Messaline, Louisine and Foulard Silks—in Stripes, Checks, Plaids, Dots and Fancy Effects—to Sell at the Astonishingly Small Price of 54c a Yard.

54c Many of These Silks Are Worth $1.00—None Are Worth Less Than 75c

OUR SILK DEPARTMENT is famous for selling the most wanted silks at cut rates. But seldom—if ever—has it been able to offer you values as remarkable as these. Bargains in desirable silks will be scarce this year. Manufacturers are taking no chances. Last season—when they had large surplus stocks that had to be closed out at a great loss—taught them a bitter and costly lesson, and now they are sailing close to the wind. Hence we consider it a great feat to be able to sell these new and stylish silks—in a great range of beautiful patterns and colorings—at about half the value, and we respectfully urge you to take advantage of the opportunity. There is no telling when we will be in a position to offer you equal values again. See display in 13th Street windows—then see the big counter displays in the Silk Department.

SNOW BLOCKADE WORST SINCE 1884

Railway Traffic Is Demoralized
in the Durango Section of Colorado

DURANGO (Colo.), Feb. 22.—This section is in the midst of the worst snow blockade since 1884. Train service is demolished east, west and north. Snow was still falling last night and foot or more snow fell in twelve hours, making it three feet or the level.

The Alamosa branch of the Denver & Rio Grande Railroad is closed thirteen or forty-four miles in every direction. From Pueblo to the highest point on the railroad line, the snow is from six to fifteen feet deep. Every effort is being made to break the blockade.

The local smelter of the American Smelting and Refining Company has had to suspend operations, throwing 150 men out of employment because no trains can get through.

MANY CASES OF RHEUMATISM

Try This at Home, Get the Ingredients and Mix Them Yourself.

Recent hospital reports show that the dread disease, rheumatism, is steadily increasing throughout the country. All known means of relief are being suggested to save the great amount of suffering this winter, especially among those who are not in a position to pack up and visit the noted health resorts to be treated. Recent tests prove rheumatism not exactly a disease in itself, but a severe symptom of kidney trouble, a condition caused by engorged veins of the eliminative tissue in the kidneys which fail to filter the poisonous waste matter and uric acid from the blood, permitting these substances to remain in the veins and decompose, usually settling about the joints and muscles, causing the intense pain, swelling and stiffness of rheumatism.

The following simple home treatment will cure. Rheumatism and is harmless and inexpensive, and so simple anybody can make it at home.

The ingredients are: Fluid Extract Dandelion, one half ounce; Compound Karrow, one ounce; Compound Syrup Sarsaparilla, three ounces. Go to any good prescription pharmacy and get these three harmless ingredients and mix them by shaking in a bottle, taking as a dose a teaspoonful after each meal and again at bedtimes.

There is nothing better in the world for backache, kidney and bladder trouble, too. Such symptoms as frequent and painful urination, soreness, weakness, general and nervous debility are caused by certain acids and poisons in the waste matter decayed tissue, etc., in the blood, which the kidneys will clear and purify after a few doses of this prescription.

SEEKS METHODIST AID TO PROMOTE WEST AFRICA

CHICAGO, Feb. 22.—Bishop C. Hartnell, who stands at the head of the Methodist Episcopal Church in Africa, is delivering a series of addresses here making a plea for the church to undertake a movement which will develop the country's resources until it becomes one of the powers of the world. Seventy-five years ago Methodism sent its first foreign missionary abroad. He went to the West Coast of Africa. The work is now increased so that one of the bishops of the church spends his entire time there.

SHIPBUILDER SAYS LAWS ARE KILLING INDUSTRY

NEW YORK, Feb. 22.—One thousand men were thrown out of work by the closing of the Snoot Island shipyard at Mariners Harbor, Staten Island. Entombed in the reason for shutting down, Robert Lederer, a shipwright, said that the laws here are killing American shipbuilding and that it was impossible to build ships at a profit under them any more. He said the only salvation for American builders must be in passing a subsidy law and until such law was passed the plant must remain closed.

The members of Oakland Rebekah Lodge No. 6100 are planning a dramatic evening to be given in the early part of March in MacCabe Temple. A one-act farce comedy entitled "An Interrupted Proposal" under the direction of Miss Shanna Brum will be given. The cast will be limited to seven talented members of the fraternity. The players are Miss May Goldspeed, Miss Leona Maganini, Edna Andrews, Albert Lovise, Albert Brown, and Alfred Woods. Rehearsals are in full swing for the performance which promises to be unusually interesting.

The production will be followed by a dance and an informal entertainment, which will be presided over by Miss Brum, who is chairman of the arrangements committee. She will be assisted by Miss Etta Kneet, Ida Ward, and Alice Newman.

FAKE "AD" CAUSES
BLOCKADE OF TRAFFIC

CHICAGO, Feb. 22.—Police are on guard today in front of the residence of William Gaynor, who has been made the victim of an advertisement in a Sunday paper, signed with his name, announcing that he wished to buy two bulldogs and two fox terriers. The practical joke resulted in a blockade of traffic and so much noise during the night that there was an appeal made to the authorities, who quickly managed to clear the street of a host of animals brought to Gaynor's inspection.

BADLY WOUNDED MAN ACCUSES PATROL DRIVER

CHICAGO, Feb. 22.—Theodore Delmet, aged 21, was found unconscious early today on the street, suffering from a bullet wound in the right side. He revived and the operating room of a hospital told the attending surgeon a boy of 14 had been shot by a patrol driver. The latter, on being interrogated by detectives, said he had had an encounter with the wounded man but had not used a revolver. Delmet's condition is said to be serious. The conflicting stories are being investigated.

Soldier Bulky Death Plot.

It seemed to J. A. Storck, Civil War veteran of Oregon, that a plot was instigated against him, his desperate lung trouble, and the grave cause of his death. "I contracted the stricken cold," he writes, "and developed a cough, but stuck to me in spite of all remedies for years. My weight ran down to 140 pounds. Then I began to use Dr. King's New Remedy, which I took internally and externally. Now, weigh 178 pounds."

For severe Colds, Asthma, and Catarrh, Hemorrhage, Rheumatism, and to prevent Consumption, it is unexcelled. 50c and $1.00. Total battle free. Guaranteed by Osgood Bros., proprietors.

FIBRE

During the past week we have received large shipments of fibre Rugs and fibre Carpets in new and striking patterns, all late designs. Many of our customers are using them for bedroom floor covering and are very much pleased with them.

An added point in their favor is that they can be sewed, lined and laid like any carpet. This can not be done with the ordinary straw matting. This week extra special 37½¢ price per yard.

Our line of wool Navajo Rugs are worth your inspection. Just the thing for the den, hall or library. Prices below what you would naturally expect.

Special low prices include laying.

BETTY MARTIN AT ORPHEUM

She Tells About the Performance Given at the Vaudeville Playhouse

(By BETTY MARTIN.)

At the Orpheum last night every number on the program received the approbation of a crowded house.

And not without reason, for merit was the criterion by which appreciation was meted. True, there were degrees of excellence, but not a solitary offering could be termed below par.

Heading them all, in depth and dramatic interest, was "Madame Zangwill's 'The Never Never Land,' which is given in three scenes, and which, contrary to established dramatic usage, begins with age and not youth."

Begins With Age

Madge, Duchess of Maldon of Belgrave and Breakfast Creek, is first pictured, after fifty years of married life, when about to enter her stately mansion one day at high noon. Her companion is the Bishop of the English-established church. The two converse perhaps trifling overmuch for the expectant audience, and speak of the departed duke, whom the bishop lauds for his good deeds while on earth. The duchess seems strangely moved, and speaks of the Duke's attitude toward sinners. The bishop consoles her with the quotation: "Though thy sins be scarlet, they will be white as snow." Also, he succeeds in diverting her thoughts into pleasanter channels. Nearing her door, the duchess is seized with a fatal illness and falls to the ground, where, supported in the arms of the bishop, she re-enacts, in her mind's eye, tragic events of the past, upon which the curtain rises in the second act.

Attractive Picture

This is in Australia, and pictures the duchess in a young girl, in the wilds of Australia. She has been twining garlands of flowers, and makes an attractive picture of young womanhood in her simple gown enlivened with tropical bloom.

Her opening speech tells the story. The wife of a poor painter, many years his senior, she longs for worldly associations, and wonders if the time has ever come when she can have the wife of an old man.

Upon her return, the sound of horsehoof is heard, and a young man, Harold, hastens to the dukedom. He is young, impulsive, and has come to claim that which hot blood tells him is his own. Old Man John, the husband, returns at the crucial moment to tell Madge he has at last found the long-sought gold. It is then a question of life and death between the two. The toss of a coin. Madge has made her decision, and the old man has his. The old man decides what shall have the first shot. It falls to Harold, who, feeling himself to be in the wrong, fires into the air. But old man John is not apprised, and in the very act of aiming at Harold's heart, falls victim to a bullet fired by Madge, who had to do it because she loved Harold.

Urged to Fly

The young stock man urges her to fly, but she objects that her hands are stained with blood.

Ourselves the servant returning at this juncture, and attempting to flee, is in turn killed by Harold.

Upon this picture the curtain falls and the last scene is the old duchess in her bed of roses.

There has been nothing like this sketch ever shown, to my knowledge, on the stage, and Zangwill's purpose, I presume, is to emphasize the truth of the saying that there is a skeleton in every family's closet.

The Ingolby Legend relate a tale of the plow-dame, loved for her good works, whose most guarded secret upon which she died and her visitors were wont to insist. This chest opened after the grande dame's death, was found to contain the bones of a lover, hastily chucking them upon return of belated husband one wintry night. Even the DeCameron contains similar stories, but it has remained for Israel Zangwill to force the conclusion that there are "worse things in heaven and earth than the hast dreamt of."

The kidneys need help.
They're overworked—can't get the poison filtered out of the blood.
They're getting worse every minute.
Will you help them?

Doan's Kidney Pills have brought thousands of kidney sufferers back from the verge of despair.

Will cure any form of kidney trouble.

Mrs H M Daggett, 1409 E Eleventh St., E Oakland Cal., says

Doan's Kidney Pills brought me great relief and I am glad to give them my recommendation. At the time I began their use I was much run down and seemed to have no energy or ambition.

My kidneys were also much disordered and bothered me a great deal.

The first box of Doan's Kidney Pills benefited me, and from that time on I steadily improved. I am now in much better health, thanks to this excellent remedy.

COMPOSERS WELL PAID FOR WORK

Dr. Richard Strauss Receives $30,000 Per Annum Alone for Electra"

BERLIN Feb. 22—Dr. Richard Strauss, the composer of "Electra," probably will become the richest man in his profession before he dies. The name he writes is well paid for, and the copyright is carefully guarded. His leading novels, "Der Rosenkavalier," "Salomé," and "Electra," are sources of large income.

For "Salomé" he gets a substantial royalty on every performance. In the first year of "Salomé's" struggle for a place on the stage Strauss got only about $7,500 a year from it. Now that it forms a regular feature on nearly every operatic stage of importance the royalties from it amount to nearly $20,000 a year, and that income is certain to increase.

"Electra" His Best Piece

From "Electra" the composer's income probably will be greater still. He sold the score of "Salomé" for $12,500, but he got for the copyright of the "Electra" score $27,500 and is to have a royalty of 75 cents on every copy sold. "Electra" has been snapped up by every big stage on the Continent of Europe, and it is estimated that his royalties on that opera will amount in three years to not less than $30,000 per annum.

Oscar Hammerstein of New York has paid $15,000 as a preliminary guarantee for thirty performances, and pledges $15,000 in royalties for those thirty performances.

Equally secure are Strauss' sources of income from his songs, not one of which is sold without the composer receiving his share.

"There is the maestro's work as general music director in the Royal Opera House in Berlin, for which he receives $6,000 for three months.

Strauss goes a good deal on concert tours and gets a very fair income from that source. Last autumn he was in Wiesbaden and gave a week of his own works, for which he was paid $1,250.

Strauss Lives Plainly

From all sources Strauss' income now probably is $60,000, and he hopes in five years to double that figure. He lives in very plain flat on Joachimsthaler Strasse and sees very little general society.

In manner he is somewhat gruff, a rough diamond, but is greatly respected and admired by all who are admitted to close friendship with him.

He is well afforded than "shorty," the racing champion, held over from last week.

It might not be time directly thrown away to listen to "Shorty" for the brief half-hour he swaggers about the stage.

Leon T. Roger, billed as the "Human Orchestra," imitates musical instruments with marvelous facility, and the "Farrel Taylor Company" burnt cork people have managed to introduce a dash of novelty in their work. Tom Carter, as the saucy "Irving Venet," is particularly good.

The "Royal Italian Quartette" is open to the suspicion of having given up the sunny land whose name they use.

But they can sing and well, too. Particularly excellent work is done by the tenor, and their contralto singer possesses a rich voice which she knows how to manage. Both soprano and basso, while pleasing, are the merest trifles light to make a perfect balance. The quartette showed to the best advantage in the selection from "Figaro."

Stole for His Pretty Young WIFE

ST. LOUIS, Feb. 22.—"He did wrong for me," sobbed Mrs. Mille Renick, winner in a beauty contest and bride of ten months, when Guy R. Renick was held on a charge of embezzeling $1,000.

"He spared me all he could about money trouble, telling me not to worry about that. But the last three months every night he would come home from work something was worrying him. I pleaded to know, but he would smile and say it was only a headache."

"We bought the furniture on time payments. For two months it was nothing but happiness. Then he became ill and doctor bills began. Shortly after I too began to experience poor health. More bills."

Last Wednesday he worked until 1 p.m. balancing his books. When he arrived home we retired. I was awakened by hearing his sob as though his heart was breaking. I asked him to tell me the cause of his grief. He said he was short in his account.

Mrs. Renick is 20 years old. She is tall, has large hazel eyes and brown hair.

80 Years Old and Must Go To Prison

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Feb. 22.—Ellen Peck, or "Mlle. Peck" as she calls herself, the confidence queen of Inspector Byrnes' day, was convicted today in the court of general sessions of grand larceny.

Mrs. Peck is now 80 years old. She was convicted as a second offender, and the penalty of twenty years is mandatory. She was convicted of getting $2000 from Ralph T. Ade of Brooklyn on pretense that she owned a vast tract of land in Kentucky.

The assistant district attorney offered to accept a plea of guilty and promised to ask the court to be lenient, but the old woman stoutly refused and kept up her courage until the jury announced the verdict. Then she collapsed.

The kind of novel a girl likes is where the hero is so poetic he couldn't earn enough to support a canary bird.

PRETTY GIRL POSED AS A BOY

Says Lots of Girls Made Love to Her, Calling Her "Pretty Boy"—Had No Other Way of Making an Honest Living

ST. LOUIS, Feb. 22.—Presto! William Winter, a handsome, rosy-cheeked boy, will be transformed to Miss Lillian Winter tomorrow.

It will be very simple. Miss Lillian, a pretty bruntie of twenty-two years, will cast off forever the rough attire in which she has posed as a youth for nine years and will put on the frocks and frills that are hers by right of birth. And mighty glad she is.

"I have been awfully anxious for this time to come," she said to Chief of Detectives Smith as her fine brown eyes filled with happy tears. "I don't want ever to be anything but just a girl. But no man knows how hard it is for a girl to earn an honest living."

Certainly Miss Lillian has been an admirable actress—or actor, if you please. She declared that during the nine years she has masqueraded as man, no one has suspected that she should have worn skirts. She has acquired a manly stride; she has been initiated to two working-men's benefit associations. She has learned to swear a little, to smoke tobacco without ill effects, and to take a glass of beer and smack her lips as if she liked it.

Girls Made Love to Her

"I never made love to anybody," she told Chief Smith archly. "But lots of girls have told me I was a pretty boy."

Miss Lillian was arrested during a raid on a "speakeasy" Thursday. It turns out that she went there to lend a little money to a friend. She was locked up in the central station, but none of the police thought she was other than a wayward boy. A detective went to the boarding house on South Sixth street, where "William" Winter lived, to learn something of his antecedents. After searching "William's" room the wise detective returned to "William's" cell and, opening the door suddenly, said:

"Come out here, Sis!"

The surprise was too much for, under a rapid cross-fire of questions, she admitted she is a girl.

Put on Girl's Clothes to Elope

"I remember the night of August 2, 1908, very distinctly," she said to Chief Smith. "I left Galveston then, dressed for the first time in boy's clothes. Of course I was nothing but a youngster then, or I never would have listened to the words of a twenty-eight-year-old man, who professed that he was madly in love with me and suggested the idea of my masquerading. This Bishop Says the Stage Can Be as Good as Society

Defends Women Accused of Lowering Drama's Morals

NEW YORK, Feb. 22.—There is no cessation to the agitation on the proposition to purify the stage. Most of the managers admit that the right sort of plays are not being put out, but they blame the public, and some have gone so far as to say that the women are responsible. Other persons have said that the managers are to blame.

"Every good citizen should exercise a discriminating, conscientious judgment in purifying the drama. Everything that deals with human passions, like muscle and torosity and poetry and art, may be and has been abused, and every abuse of it should be condemned and denounced. There should also be such a cultivation of purity and refinement of moral sentiment, such strength and vigor of intellectual culture upon the part of the people, that they will not condescend to anything that is vulgar and cheap in quality, or coarse and unworthy in its intellectual character.

"If our modern stage be not of a very high character it must be because the culture of our modern society is not of a very high order.

"As the people grow in moral and intellectual stature their popular amusements will correspondingly grow and become of a better character. The drama will then become, as the Earl of Lytton says, 'not the resort and the amusement simply of the vicious and the vulgar, but the great and effective instrument by means of which the lofty ideals of a heroic type of human life, the great and strong movements of the human soul, will plainly and prominently depicted before the responsive and educated imagination of the people.'"

Not to be outdone, the girl replied in rhyme also. Her note follows:

SEVERAL WIVES OF DEAD MAN Fight Over His Remains at Death

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 22.—Controversy over the body of John William Boyes, otherwise Bushworth, a photographer, of 2201 Chestnut street, which was claimed by two women when he died in the Pennsylvania Hospital Saturday evening, when the hospital authorities turned it over to his estranged wife, who lived at the Chestnut-street address. She will arrange the funeral.

Although Mrs. John Bushworth, the woman with whom Boyes lived for many years, and who was the mother of four children, announced in Wilmington Saturday night that she could put up a fight to get the body, she did not appear yesterday.

Mrs. Boyes, with whom the man was living when he was taken ill, married him in England twenty-five years ago, but in 1881 he came to America with Bushworth, a neighbor. They lived here for many years, when Boyes sent for his first wife and left the woman with whom he had lived for twenty years in Wilmington.

Last fall Boyes remarried his first wife in Camden. But he still visited Mrs. Boyes in Camden. But he still visited Mrs. Boyes in Camden, that interment be made there.

It's awful risky for a girl to go into a dark room with a man, and that's why she does it.

Miss Jane Addams Tells More About Women Foreigners

CHICAGO, Feb. 22.—Miss Jane Addams in a communication to a woman's club on woman suffrage deals with the subject from the standpoint of the tenement dweller foreign women, and all who live in crowded districts.

"The business of women has always been with her home and her children," says Miss Addams. "And in large cities like Chicago the home and the children must be protected as much by the city as by the mother. Their health and safety, disease, clean things within the city regulations and not the woman. When women vote children will receive better moral and physical protection. The dangers of the dance hall and the poolroom will be better guarded against."

"Foreign women of my neighborhood are surprised that we have no public wash houses such as they have in their own countries. The garbages and sewage facilities give them cause for much complaint. Given the ballot, they would change these things."

Society Girls Cut Out the Skirt Dance

NEWPORT.—The young society girls, headed by Mrs. Newton Adams, a niece of the late Bishop Potter, will cut out the skirt dance advertised to be given in the Guild House of Trinity Church Monday night for the benefit of the American Navy Young Men's Christian Association.

The identity of "Mlle. Blue," who was to do the dance, will never be known now much to the general disappointment. It was suspected, however, that "mademoiselle" was not a woman at all, but a plain, ordinary man.

Idaho May Set Aside Woman's Suffrage

BOISE, Idaho, Feb. 22.—The right of women to vote in Idaho will be nullified if the Legislature adopts and the people ratify a resolution introduced in the House Saturday proposing a constitutional amendment restricting the franchise to males. The opponents of the measure charge that it was introduced in the interest of the saloon men who hope, through its adoption, to offset the local option law. Several prominent Boise women have signed petitions favoring the passage of the resolution.

Barnard College Juniors have taken advantage of an opportunity to teach the Columbia undergraduates a lesson in politeness, as the girls expressed it.

According to the Columbia basket-ball schedule, the "evens" were engaged for the Cornell University game next Friday night. The Barnardians were intent on holding the annual class ball that evening, and with all their arrangements made, applied to the superintendent for the reservation of the "gym" for Friday. He granted the permission in ignorance of the scheduled athletic contest, the arrangement having informed him.

POLICE DETAIN NOTORIOUS YEGGMAN

Clarence French Arrested While Trying to Purchase Supply of Dynamite

PRISONER WELL KNOWN THROUGHOUT COUNTRY

Has Bad Prison Record But at Present the Authorities Cannot Land Him

While in the act of purchasing dynamite, Clarence French, one of the most notorious criminals in the country, was placed under arrest at the Pierce Hardware Company, by Captain of Detectives Peterson, and a posse, after they were first notified by telephone that there was a suspicious character in the store seeking to purchase the explosive.

French has been in jail twelve times on charges of safe cracking. He has been in the penitentiary at Columbus, Ohio, at Folsom and at San Quentin.

This criminal became well known to the Oakland public several years ago, when he made an all-but-successful attempt to rob the First California Bank. He forced his way into the vaults of the bank. He then attached a wire to the electric current used in operating the elevator. With this he started to melt the steel frame of the vault. It was discovered, however, that something was wrong and that the safe was not open. French was just as quick to become apprised of the warning and made his escape. He was subsequently captured in the south and brought back for trial.

Since then he has been known as the electrical burglar. All of his operations have been characterized by boldness.

POWDER TRUST TO HAVE RIVAL

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 22.—That the powder trust will be compelled to do lively battle with powerful opponents, is an established fact, according to the announcement just made to the effect that the Clark interests of Missouri have entered into a formal alliance of their own.

In this new opposing company will be associated John Herringham, for many years general manager of the DuPont de Nemours company, a branch of the trust; J. A. Folger, head of the big mercantile house that bears his name; former State Senator Charles M. Delsham. The plant will be located near San Francisco, presumably at Antioch, and operations will be conducted on a big scale.

The Clark company will begin the erection of its new plant in a few weeks. Seven thousand men, in the vicinity of Antioch, the home of former Senator Balsam, one of the promoters of the enterprise, and it is understood, that the concern will locate there. The main office will be in San Francisco. A corps of men, both for the manufacture of gunpowder and for the supervision of the business of the concern, has been tentatively selected.

John Beringham will be the active manager of the company. He has entered into a contract for ten years. For a long period he has been superintendent for the trust on the Pacific Coast.

The two concerns will compete in the manufacture of dynamite and other explosives, as well as powder.

BURGLAR LEAVES TRAIL OF COINS IN HIS WAKE

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 22.—Awakened suddenly from sleep by the sound of someone moving in the room, George S. Kimball, a street, John Hanlon, a clerk, after turning on the light, discovered that his trousers were missing. On the floor were a number of dimes and nickels, and the trail of coins extended out through the door, along the hallway, down the stairs and out into the alley. Hanlon found the pants, but no sign of the burglar. After counting the money picked up along the route, Hanlon found that only $2 had been actually secured by the thief.

GREEKS FLEE IN FEAR OF MOB VIOLENCE

"Leave it to the Law," Is Advice of Minister to His Countrymen

Property Valued at $25,000 Destroyed in Omaha Race Riots

OMAHA, Feb. 22.—"Leave it to the law," is your protection," was the message received from the Greek-Miles Greek Minister to the United States located at New York City, by N. J. Mandanis, president of the Greek colony. It was in answer to a telegram sent by Minister Core-Miles by Mandanis last night informing him of the race riot in Omaha in which scores of his countrymen were injured and thousands of dollars' worth of their property was destroyed.

Mandanes read the message from the minister to a gathering of about 1000 Greeks on a street corner today, and made an address in which he counseled calmness.

Another meeting was announced for this afternoon at Bright Hill, a large auditorium in the business districts of Omaha, at which other leaders of the Greeks will be present.

Advise Calmness

Mandanes read the message from the minister to a gathering of about 1000 Greeks on a street corner today, and made an address in which he counseled calmness.

Another meeting was announced for this afternoon at Bright Hill, a large auditorium in the business districts of Omaha, at which other leaders of the Greeks will be present.

Exodus of Greeks

According to Mandanes there are about 3000 Greeks residing in Omaha and South Omaha. Practically all those living in South Omaha have left the town, many coming to this city. There has also been a steady exodus of Greeks from Omaha since the beginning of the trouble, every train carrying a large number of Greeks.

It was estimated that the property damage done by last night's riots will amount to about $25,000.

Of the twenty or more persons who received injuries, none is reported in a serious condition and all is quiet today.

TRAIN WRECK BURNS WITH ITS VICTIMS

Seven Lose Lives in Head-on Collision of Express and Two Engines

FAIRMOS EDUCATED HORSE BURNED TO DEATH

Those Killed Were on Their Way to Witness Homecoming of Fleet

DEL MAR, Del. 22.—Seven men were killed or burned to death early today in a head-on collision between an express train and two locomotives on the Delaware division of the Pennsylvania Railroad. Two passengers were injured. The dead are:

OLIVER PERRY, express messenger; J. D. MCREDY, baggeman; GEO. D. MCCLURE, engineer; W. D. COCHRANE, mail clerk; K. W. WOOD, mail clerk; D. M. DAVIS, mail clerk; — WILHELM, mail weighman.

Famous Horse Burns

Princess Trixie, the famous educated horse, was burned to death. She has been shown all over the world by her owner, Harrison Barnes. She has appeared three times before King Edward, each time receiving a handsome present from the King.

The train was crowded with passengers bound for Hampton Roads to witness the home-coming of the battleship fleet.

The wreck immediately took fire and it was impossible to rescue those under the wreckage.

To Renew Attack

Rainey further stated that in the evidence he procured in support of his charge of graft in connection with the buying of the canal nearly all was obtained from Panama.

"The attack I made was entirely unexpected and the next attack I make upon these gentlemen will be just as unexpected as the first," he said.

Continuing, Mr. Rainey said:

"Mr. Cromwell in the speech made before Mr. Olcott of New York has seen fit to discuss his present efforts to conclude a treaty between Colombia and Panama, in which he refers to the necessity for some contribution from Panama to Colombia as her proportion of the public debt of Colombia."

Referring to those as the "proposed Cromwell treaties" Mr. Rainey asserted that Mr. Cromwell proposed to impose upon this country an additional burden of $1,250,000. "And he proposes that this sum shall be taken from our treasury and paid, not to Panama, but to Colombia. In addition to that he proposes that for five years after 1913 the $200,000 we agreed to pay Panama shall be added to our national debt. In other words, by the treaties of which he is so proud, Panama deprives herself for five years of her fixed source of revenue and consents that it be paid to Colombia and the United States contributes from its treasury $1,200,000 and pays it to the United States, of whom there is no precedent for Mr. Cromwell's treaty."

"The attack I made was entirely unexpected and the next attack I make upon these gentlemen will be just as unexpected as the first," he said.

Continuing, Mr. Rainey said:

"The situation Mr. Cromwell is endeavoring to force by the treaties, is that the United States is to be required to increase its treasury deficit and to pay to

Children Entertain

The interior of the school was elaborately decorated and at the conclusion of the patriotic exercises the children gave an entertaining program in the large assembly hall. Little four-year-old Clifford Harrington a round eyed baby boy who appeared as a representative of the American Legion, sang "America" which was followed by an inspiring solo by Phillips Purcell. Floyd Russell recited the poem "The Red Arrows" and Gladys Draper, Emily Peterson, Ruth Jewell and Edith Moriar,

DIES IN CONVULSIONS; WAS POISONED, HIS LAST WORDS

Investigating Jeweler's Mysterious Death

BERKELEY, Feb. 22.—Louis Haas, a jeweler of 1921 Ashby avenue, died in convulsions shortly after his return from a trip to Sausalito last night, and the circumstances surrounding the affair are so mysterious that both the police and the coroner's office are investigating. Dr. F. H. Van Tassel, the attending physician, was inclined to believe that Haas was a victim of poison, but until an autopsy is held no definite report will be made.

Haas left his room on Ashby avenue about 1 o'clock. He put in an appearance about 6 o'clock and told Joseph Loewe, who roomed with him, that he was very sick and believed he had been poisoned by eating something. According to the dying man's words, he had come from Berkeley and was some 300 miles away. He had a sore throat and drank three glasses of beer in the Kistenmacher cafe on the water-front. Shortly afterwards he felt pains in the stomach and drank three glasses of whisky.

Tells Disjointed Story

From this time on Haas' movements are scarcely known. He told Dr. Van Tassel a disjointed story about going into a drugstore and getting a soda, and the story of Loewe.

Haas was sick in such places and suffered on the street en route to his way to Berkeley. Haas died before proper medicines could be administered and the Berkeley police have now taken up the tangled threads endeavor to trace his movements on his way to the city.

When detective A. S. Woods was called to the house last night he found Loewe and a woman, giving the name of Mrs. Kate Huston, and her address at the St. Ives hotel in San Francisco, sitting in the front room. Loewe said he was the vice-president of the New Jewelers company with offices at 24 California street, San Francisco, and professed to know nothing of how Haas had spent the days beyond what the dying man had told

The stomach of a child is the organ which takes up much of the future of a child depends. Bodily development is fast in children, and the nourishment necessary to meet such developments is the most essential demand made upon a mother, a mother, and father, jealousy guard a child from the formation of bad habits, especially in this age our children early become fond of eating food, overeating, and irregular meals.

It is most appalling to know the effect of stomach trouble among our children.

Most children are nervous, irritable, and cross, who cream, sleep restlessly, who tire easily, and have a desire for much exercise, generally have stomach trouble, indigestion and dyspepsia.

CHAMPION JIM JEFFRIES IS BOthered By Crippled ArmPitching of Baseball Game Leaves Champion With Defect of Right Mauler.

By EDDIE SMITH.

TONIGHT Jim Jeffries closes his California theatrical tour at the Macdonough Theater and will be on his way to Los Angeles Tuesday. Jeff will clear up his business interests there in such manner as to permit his absence from home for a long time. Early in March he will be on his way to New York, where he again opens with a show on the 9th of the month.

Ever since the big fellow opened in Oakland the writer has been watching him carefully in his work after the curtain runs down for the closing of the show, and the discovery has been made that the champion is the possessor of a crippled right arm, that, although not bothering him with pain, seems to give the big fellow some mental worry.

The condition of the arm is best explained by saying that he has developed a baseball pitcher's arm. And to be sure, that is just what it is. Shortly after Jeff announced his retirement from the ring he was asked to act as a pitcher in a game of baseball for charity. Having a fondness for the game and being somewhat of a player he readily consented.

After pitching for three innings the would-be pitcher had a very sore arm, for he was in no condition to pitch a ball and he should never have tried to do so without some practice. He stayed with the game, though, and for several days afterwards he was troubled with a very sore arm at the elbow.

His Arm Stiffens

After the soreness had left, little attention was given the arm until it was finally noticed that it had stiffened at the joint and that it was impossible to straighten it out. Now it has crooked to such an extent that, although he is able to move it all right as far as it will go, he can only straighten it to, say, about a 45-degree slant.

This defect will not materially affect his boxing, for he very seldom uses his right hand to punch with, and as a blocking arm it is as good as ever. The big fellow wants it straightened, however, and to do so he has, through the advice of Dr. Porter of this city, had a rubber pulling machine made with a handle at each end.

It is said that it takes a pull of sufficient weight equivalent to 400 pounds to stretch its full length. After the day's work has been finished and the rubbing is being done, Jeff stands with one foot in one of the handles while he pulls up with the right hand in such a manner that the strain comes on the stiff elbow, by which means it is expected he will be able to get it straight again. As has already been said, it would not appear as if the bent arm will do him any harm, but he is worrying over it a bit just the same, and he will continue to work on it until such time as he is satisfied that it is all right.

News of Boxing Game

NEW YORK, Feb. 22.—Cable dispatches from London indicate that Jimmy Britt is in the process of training for his bout of tonight with Joe Steamer. Britt has won a couple of minor bouts in London and has attracted quite a following.

CHICAGO, Feb. 22.—Puckey McFarland will fight ten rounds before the National Athletic Club of New York with either Tommy Murphy or Leach Cross March 20, according to the announcement of his manager last night. The weight will be 165 pounds.

SEATTLE, Feb. 22.—John L. Sullivan, Jake Kihara, Charlie Mitchell, Tug Wilson and other famous fighters, as well as Hackenschmidt, Gotsch, Mahnert, the doctor, Stevens and Dr. Rother, of wrestling fame, will give daily boxing and wrestling exhibitions at the Alaska-Yukon Exposition this summer.

CATCHER "MICKEY" LA LONGE OF THE OAKLAND COAST LEAGUE TEAM IN ONE OF HIS CHARACTERISTIC ATTITUDES.

LA LANGE TO DO BULK OF CATCHING FOR ATHENIANS

With the signing of "Mickey" La Longe, the Oakland Coast League team has been practically completed for the coming season. La Longe made a great record during the time he was with Oakland last season, having been purchased by the local club about the middle of the year from San Francisco. He is without doubt the strongest throwing catcher in the league and is full of giner all the time. He is expected to do the bulk of the catching for the Athenians in the coming campaign.

In regard to his signed contract to that club, Mickey referred to the fact that

Oakland has four catchers on the roll this year for try-outs and the game little backstop remarked in his letter that the four are so many candidates that he did not trouble him at all as he felt confident that he would hold his job.

That the aggressive young buckstop is well thought of is shown by the fact that Manager McClellan of Portland has been trying hard to get Oakland to trade La Longe to him, but the local management could not see it in that light.

Mickey has been passing the winter in Los Angeles, but is preparing to come to Oakland the coming week to get ready for the opening of the training season.

RISKS OWN LIFE TO SAVE WOMAN

Motorcyclist Drags Runaway Horse Off Railway Crossing and Averts Smashup

DENVER, Feb. 22.—Edward Donagan yesterday risked his life to save Mrs. Lee Baker from being run down by a freight train.

The woman lived on a farm west of Denver and was driving to the city, when her horse became frightened as she was crossing the railroad tracks at Twenty-third street.

The horse dashed toward an approaching freight train, when Donagan, on a motorcycle, noticed her danger, and sped up his machine, striking the horse, dragging it with the buggy from the tracks a fraction of a second before the train reached the spot.

GIVES THANKS FOR ANTI-RACE LAW

Chaplain of Assembly Mentions in Prayer Signing of Bill by Governor

SACRAMENTO, Feb. 22.—In his prayer to the House, Rev. Soren N. Marsh, chaplain of the Assembly, gave special thanks for the signing of the anti-racetrack bill. In part he said:

"We give Thee special praise this morning. O Thou Supreme Law-giver, that our noble Governor has signed the Walker-Otis anti-racetrack bill, sweeping forever from the face of our beautiful State all gambling,豪華的 and profanity. It is a monument to honor to our State, a monument to the Commonwealth which monument will last to the end of time. And if this legislative body had done nothing more and should do nothing more, it would justify, in an infinite sense, the entire expense of the session. And so we pray that the benediction of love may evermore abide with the thirty-eighth session of the Legislature of the State of California."

S.S.S. PURELY VEGETABLE

It is a generally recognized truth that medicines made from vegetable ingredients are a great deal better adapted to the delicate human system, and safer in every way, than those composed of strong mineral mixtures and compounds.

Mercury, potassium, arsenic, etc., which are used in the manufacture of most blood medicines, are too violent in their action, and frequently derange the system by disturbing the stomach and digestion, affecting the bowels, and when used for a prolonged period often cause rheumatism.

S. S. S. is the only blood medicine guaranteed absolutely and purely vegetable.

It is made entirely of roots, herbs and barks, selected for their purifying and healing qualities.

S. S. S. cures Rheumatism, Catarrh, Sores and Ulcers, Scrofula, Contagious Blood Poison, and all other blood diseases, because it cleanses and purifies the blood, and at the same time builds up the entire system by its fine vegetable tonic effects.

S. S. S. may be taken by young and old with absolute safety, and with the assurance that it will cure the diseases and disorders due to an impure and poisoned blood supply, even reaching down and removing hereditary taints.

Book on the blood and any medical advice free to all who write.

TO DISCUSS NEW CHARTER ISSUE

RACE ENTRIES FOR TOMORROW

Able Men Will Give Views on Proposed Amendments at Charnber Meeting

The Merchant's Exchange will hold a meeting in their headquarters, 410 Twelfth street, at 8 o'clock tomorrow evening to discuss the proposed amendment to the city charter. Messrs George C. Pardee, Frank K. Mott, F. F. Jackson, A. H. Elliott, Oliver Ellsworth, Mr. J. Lawrence, and other able speakers have been invited to be present.

As the special election is near at hand, the Exchange desires a full attendance, as the voters should have information in order to vote intelligently.

POVERTY IS GREAT AMONG JAPANESE

People Are Too Poor Even to Eat the Rice They Raise

KOBE, Japan, Feb. 22—in spite of recent progress, however, the country is poor, miserably poor. No rice is eaten, and the food on the market consists of rice, fish and vegetables. The struggle for life is so close that the rice raised in the country is not of a superior quality. It is said by many, if not all, that the farmer who grows rice here grows it from China because it is cheaper.

The amount that a laboring man can earn will not even buy a year's worth of American money. The pay of a policeman is 15 yen ($1.48) per month, and the pay of a soldier is 10 yen ($0.90). The salaries of civil officials are paid very small salaries, heads of departments in the government services are few who receive over 60 yen ($5) per month. But everybody who has a job, no matter how menial, carries the babies on their backs and may be seen in countless numbers playing about the streets with the younger ones, the children and the people sleeping placidly while the nurse is playing hop scotch or learning the rudiments of basket weaving. Few birds are to be seen during the day, except a few sparrows, which are seen in the silk factories, cloisonné and porcelain works, and in every situation the May of the country not only gives opportunities to those in the commoner kinds of labor, but none become loafers. *

Amputating a horse's leg at the fetlock joint, Professor Ursdorff, of the veterinary school at Bucharest, has replaced the lost portion with a leather artificial leg that enables the animal to walk about and take exercise.
